The Education of Exceptional Students Core Content Knowledge Test (0353)

is designed for examinees that plan to teach in a special education program at any grade level from preschool through grade twelve. The 60 multiple-choice questions assess the examinee's knowledge of the basic principles of special education.

The web-based sessions are intended to assist students in their preparation for the November 14th 2009 and the January 9th 2010 exams. In addition, the sessions will provide participants with a review of special education test content as well as supplemental test-taking strategies.

Registered participants will also have access to the course facilitator through the Blackboard website.

Location and Time:

All sessions are web-based and will be conducted via Blackboard. Flexible enrollment for January 2010 test takers. Content folders which are aligned with sections of the exam will be released at the beginning of each week. Sessions will close January 10th 2010.
