

Keyboard Conversations®

The Center for Arts and Innovation at Cleveland State University announces the 20th season of Keyboard Conversations with Jeffrey Siegel. One of our city's musical treasures, Keyboard Conversations is a unique concert-plus-commentary in which Mr. Siegel speaks to the audience about the music prior to performing each work in its entirety. Mr. Siegel presents an informal, accessible and highly entertaining introduction to the vast repertoire of the piano and to classical music in general. American pianist Jeffrey Siegel enjoys a flourishing international career and has performed with every major American orchestra as well as in the leading music capitals of the world. Mark your calendars for what promises to be four stimulating, musical afternoons. More information is available at the Keyboard Conversations website at www.keyboardconversations.com.
