

AN OPPORTUNITY TO PARTICIPATE

GUARANTORS AND PATRONS

Sit in the best seats in the house by lending your support to our Keyboard Conversations Series. As the level of state assistance for the arts in higher education declines, it is essential that individuals who know and appreciate the value of such experiences step forward with their support. Please join your friends and colleagues in enhancing the cultural life of this university and the community it serves by becoming a patron of the 2011-2012 Kulas Series of Keyboard Conversations. Guarantors and Patrons are recognized in the printed programs, receive priority seating and are invited to a gala end-of-season patrons' reception with Mr. Siegel.

The Center for Arts and Innovation at Cleveland State University announces the 24th season of Keyboard Conversations with Jeffrey Siegel. One of our city's musical treasures, Keyboard Conversations is a unique concert-plus-commentary in which Mr. Siegel speaks to the audience about the music prior to performing each work in its entirety. Mr. Siegel presents an informal, accessible and highly entertaining introduction to the vast repertoire of the piano and to classical music in general. American pianist Jeffrey Siegel enjoys a flourishing international career and has performed with every major American orchestra as well as in the leading music capitals of the world.
