

NEW @ East Center Campus

Health Sciences Major ~ General Interest Track

- Designed for students interested in pursuing a health-related career.
- Promotes the importance of culture and ethical considerations relevant to all aspects of health care practice.
- Allows students the flexibility to plan a course of study that best suits their professional and educational needs.
- Offers advanced courses not usually offered in most undergraduate programs.
- Immediate employment can be found as a group home staff member, clinical research assistant, quality assurance staff, case manager, or activity director.
- Employment outlook in most health science fields is excellent, with a growth rate much faster than the national average.
