

Call for Papers

The Economics Department at Cleveland State University is hosting a workshop on Saturday, November 3. The goal of the workshop is to provide economists in Northeast Ohio with an opportunity to present their research and to foster ties between area researchers who may have similar interests. The workshop is a great opportunity for junior faculty to network with one another and receive feedback on their research.

Submissions in all areas of economic research are welcome. Papers in the early stages of development are welcome and encouraged. If you are interested in presenting, submit either an extended abstract or a working paper to b.kosteas@csuohio.edu by October 1. Please include the phrase 'economics workshop' in the subject line. We plan to have the schedule together by October 15.

We hope that many of you will be able to attend the workshop.

Sincerely,

Vasilis (Bill) Kosteas
Assistant Professor, Department of Economics
