Experiences in Global Cultures and Class

Students in the CSU Scholars Program are eligible to enroll in this Community that offers preparation for entry to different majors. Examine various facets of global cultures and identify similarities and differences. Gary the various social causes and interplay between music and science. Develop critical thinking, writing and other skills as preparation for taking CHEM 261 and other required courses for science majors.

ASC 101  Introduction to University Life

HIS 161  Preparatory-Chemistry

ENG 101  College Writing 1

MTH 161  Precalculus

Science and Soul

Add a little soul to your study of science, exploring natural and scientific laws in health sciences. Challenging coursework will help students gain deeper understanding of physical laws and scientific concepts. Students will study how images shape our attitudes and realities with a particular focus on urban Black America. Consider how city planning, politics and other forces contribute to images in society. Develop critical thinking, writing and other skills as preparation for taking CHEM 261 and other required courses for science majors.

ASC 101  Introduction to University Life

HIS 161  Preparatory-Chemistry

ENG 101  College Writing 1

MTH 161  Precalculus

Virtues, Voices and Vibes in the Spoken Word

Focus on the spoken word in literature and hip hop culture, performing arts, poetry, singing and acting. A unique opportunity to develop critical thinking and writing skills using this contemporary literary performance style. Concepts will be shared and discussed in a broad intellectual context. Students will study how images shape our attitudes and realities with a particular focus on urban Black America. Consider how city planning, politics and other forces contribute to images in society. Develop critical thinking, writing and other skills as preparation for taking CHEM 261 and other required courses for science majors.

ASC 101  Introduction to University Life

HIS 161  Preparatory-Chemistry

ENG 101  College Writing 1

MTH 161  Precalculus

Women in Society: Gender Still Matters

Learn to share your ideas and social commentary in this provocative youth culture. Students will study how images shape our attitudes and realities with a particular focus on urban Black America. Consider how city planning, politics and other forces contribute to images in society. Develop critical thinking, writing and other skills as preparation for taking CHEM 261 and other required courses for science majors.

ASC 101  Introduction to University Life

HIS 161  Preparatory-Chemistry

ENG 101  College Writing 1

MTH 161  Precalculus

Weekend Learning Community

Enter or re-enter the college scene with maximum flexibility and support! This Community works best for the highly motivated adult learner who is comfortable using a computer. Courses are hybrid format, requiring students to complete assignments online with only three face-to-face sessions per class. Most sessions are at CSU’s East Center in Solon on Saturdays. Course work provides a solid foundation in critical thinking and writing and opportunities to develop skills in a supportive living environment. Students will live together on one floor of dorm Tabor Hall; further it provides opportunities for social interaction and academic success. Ideal for students who desire an intensive and dynamic learning experience geared toward civic engagement and community service.