Welcome to Cleveland State University!

About Cleveland State University (CSU)

Located in the heart of downtown Cleveland, Ohio, Cleveland State University (CSU) is a comprehensive metropolitan university committed to providing an education of highest quality to students with diverse backgrounds, experiences, interests, and needs. The University offers an engaged learning experience through strong undergraduate and graduate programs to prepare students for productive careers and lifelong learning. Established as a state university in 1964, Cleveland State assumed a tradition of excellence when it adopted the buildings, faculty, staff, and programs of Fenn College, a private institution of 2,500 students in downtown Cleveland. In 1969, the Cleveland-Marshall School of Law merged with the University.

Today, Cleveland State continues to grow, offering quality, diversity, and flexibility in its programs and course offerings to some 16,000 students. Degrees are offered through the College of Liberal Arts and Social Sciences, the College of Sciences and Health Professions, the Nance College of Business Administration, the Fenn College of Engineering, the College of Education and Human Services, the School of Nursing, the Maxine Goodman Levin College of Urban Affairs, the Cleveland-Marshall College of Law, and the College of Graduate Studies.

The downtown campus consists of 89 acres, with 45 buildings used for teaching, research, housing, administration, and recreation. Nineteen-story Rhodes Tower, containing the Michael Schwartz University Library, classrooms, and many faculty offices, is a striking feature on the Cleveland skyline. Cleveland State also has extended campuses in Westlake and Solon, Ohio. We feature a blend of old and new architectural styles, from historic Mather Mansion, Parker Hannifin Hall and Fenn Tower, to a new Recreation Center, Parker Hannifin Administration Center, Student Center, College of Education and Human Services in Julka Hall, and Euclid Commons apartment-style housing.
