Major: International Business and French || Minor: Dance
Graduation date: May 2021

How would you describe yourself?

Once I was playing Apples to Apples and someone told me that the adjective cards a person wins during the game (the green ones) are supposed to describe that person. I won the cards “Quirky,” “Mature,” “Childish,” and “Scholarly.” I think those adjectives describe me pretty well. Aside from that, I would consider myself creative and curious.

What do you like to do in your spare time?

This year, I got involved with so many organizations at CSU that at first, I didn’t have spare time! I am involved with CAB, Young Life College, Mandel Vikes, and Pink Gloves Boxing. However, I realized that I didn’t have enough time to do the things I really love, like dancing (ballet and modern), embroidery, reading, painting, getting involved in my church, taking walks, baking, sewing, and spending time with my family. Next semester, I am going to be more judicious about prioritizing the things I’m truly passionate about.

What is your favorite part about being in the Honors College?

I am enjoying being part of the Honors College Club, Mandel Vikes. I am the Events Chair, which means that I get to brainstorm activities to include all Honors College students. My family calls me their “personal events coordinator,” and so this position is perfect for me! I have met some lovely people through Mandel Vikes, and we meet every other Tuesday during common hour for anyone who is interested in joining!

What are your plans for after graduation?

I am an Honors Student, which means that I enjoy learning and thinking about the world. I am also very artistically motivated, and so I would love to find a way to combine these two parts of me. I don’t know exactly what that means yet, but I know I want to spend time living in France and I know I want to interact with people from all over the world.
