REPORT OF THE CHAIR

Vice Chair Cosgrove noted that Chair Reynolds was not able to attend today's meeting and passed along his sincere regrets. Vice Chair Cosgrove announced that the agenda was being adjusted for timing purposes and that the Executive Session would be moved to 9:45 am. He reminded members that their annual ethics training is to be completed by December 31, 2023 and that details would be sent to members.

Vice Chair Cosgrove welcomed new members: Nikki C. Byrd was appointed by Governor DeWine for a nine-year term on June 30, 2023; and student trustee Akshat Shah was appointed for a one-year term on June 30, 2023.

REPORT OF THE PRESIDENT

President Bloomberg shared a video to help members visualize the activities and energy of the first weeks of the fall semester and with students returning to campus. A convocation-type event was held for new first-time and transfer students and included each of the students walking across a make-shift graduation stage to envision their own future graduation. The students were greeted by the President and Provost in full academic regalia. Several hundred students participated and then walked through a "clap-line" that included the President's Cabinet and other CSU volunteers. She hopes that the event becomes a new tradition.

President Bloomberg reported that she recently hosted seven regional legislators on campus on September 18 for a tour of campus and research labs, and thanked Trustee Tompkins for participating as well. She noted that many of the participants are alumni and were appreciative of the opportunity to see first-hand the work of the University and the changing campus amenities.

A new Division of Student Belonging and Success is being created to provide students with deeper feelings of belonging at CSU and encourage greater persistence toward graduation. President Bloomberg noted that the sense of belonging and being a part of a community contribute to student success. The Division will serve as the umbrella for several units with student-focused functions including: campus engagement, student success coaching, career development and exploration, Lift Up Vikes! Resource Center, inclusion and multicultural engagement, the Dean of Students, and many other units.

President Bloomberg acknowledged Dr. Flapp Cockrell for his successful leadership of the division of Campus Engagement, Diversity, Equity, and Inclusion.

She updated members on the Organizational Resilience and Financial Stability timeline and core principles; it was noted that the University leadership is committed to a level of transparency in the work being done.

A working group has been established for the creation of the new Center for Civics, Culture, and Society as mandated by Senate Bill 117; Deans Anglin and Fisher are heading the working group to identify candidates for the Center's Academic Council. Board members are encouraged to recommend candidates for the Council, keeping in mind that the Board of Trustees approves the appointments and is not obligated to appoint from the working group's recommendations. Trustees Reynolds, Cosgrove, and Whiting are members of the working group.

Vice Chair Cosgrove reemphasized that the Board of Trustees has approval responsibilities for the Center's Academic Council, and that will need to be completed by December 31. He also encouraged members to attend the Ohio Public University Boards of Trustees Symposium on October 23, in the Ohio Statehouse Atrium, and hosted by Senator Jerry Cirino.

In closing, President Bloomberg reminded members that the 2023 State of the University is scheduled for Thursday, October 5, 2023, at 3pm.

REPORT FROM STUDENT TRUSTEES

Trustees Wrege and Shah agreed that it is an exciting time on campus with many student groups busy with organizing for the year and engaging with each other.

The administration was asked to be aware that many students use auxiliary parking lots that are located outside of the core campus, and that some students have reported a lack of functioning surface lighting along those routes.

The new dining options are being well-received; however, it was noted that commuter students may not have a purchased meal plan, and that could lead to limited options for them. The Student Trustees also reported that the designated space for commuter students is often underused and suggested informing students that the space exists or reconfiguring the current space to make it more usable.

VP Jewell responded that there are now additional seats in the Student Center that allow more usability for those who do not participate in meal plans, and that student spaces are being enhanced, including the commuter lounge, that will provide all students more access for study and meeting.

REPORT FROM FACULTY REPRESENTATIVE

Faculty Representative Ausherman reported that a faculty learning community met five times during the Spring 2023 semester to investigate how artificial intelligence (AI) can be integrated into classes to enhance student learning and engagement, while also addressing the challenges and ethical concerns that arise. The work was led by Dr. Shelley Rose (History) and will be shared with Trustees. Vice Chair Cosgrove suggested that the Academic Affairs and Student Success Committee receive a more in-depth report at a later time on the work and subject matter of the AI faculty learning community.

She also noted that the faculty are engaged with the Organizational Resiliency/Financial Stability process and are interested in continuing these discussions.

ACADEMIC AFFAIRS AND STUDENT SUCCESS COMMITTEE REPORT

Vice Chair Cosgrove reported on the September 14, 2023 meeting of the Academic Affairs and Student Success Committee. The Committee received updates from the Provost on the new inquiry core curriculum and its timeline; the Center for Civics, Culture, and Society; the Dean search for the Levin College of Public Affairs and Education; contracted services with Gray Associates for data analyzation and informed analysis; and a number of recent research grants.

He announced that the committee approved the ratification of three appointments and many amendments to faculty personnel policies for the full-Board, and that they are included on the consent agenda.

Vice Chair Cosgrove called on Dr. Tachelle Banks (Vice President, Student Belonging and Success), Dr. Rachele Carnell (Dean, Mandel Honors College), and Dr. Bill Kosteas (Dean, College of Graduate Studies), to come forth and provide members with a brief introduction and overview of their respective units.

He noted that the EADC is a collaborative yet separate entity and that the subcommittee is working on memorandum of understanding between the Board of Trustees and EADC to set policies and procedures that will contribute to the coordination of mutual activities.

ATHLETICS COMMITTEE UPDATE

Committee Chair Dolan reported on the September 11, 2023 meeting, noting that VP Garrett provided a division overview of student-athletes and financial implications of the Organizational Resiliency and Financial Stability work.

Athletic and academic highlights of the 2022-23 year were also shared with the committee, and VP Garrett noted that it was the best year ever for: student athlete academics, community involvement, developmental activities, fundraising, and on-court/field successes.

He notified members that the in-depth presentation also included information on student-athlete successes, divisional goals, and performance highlights, and is available on the members online portal.

REPORT OF THE CSU FOUNDATION

CSU Foundation Board Chair White recognized VP Rehm and the Advancement team for their thoughtful and responsive work, noting that the Foundation is well-served. The Foundation's investment portfolio stands at $121 million; the external audit is underway and nearly complete with all indications signaling a clean audit; and that currently there are 26 members on the Foundation Board, with room to grow.

VP Rehm reported on a successful alumni outing to the Cleveland Guardians game (475 tickets sold), she thanked Trustee Dolan for his participation. There are other upcoming events scheduled including: a CSU Foundation Board social event on October 10, 2023; CSU's homecoming activities in November; and a special Washkewicz College of Engineering hall of fame event.

An alumni reception is scheduled in Columbus on October 26. VP Rehm thanked Trustees Starkoff and Cosgrove for their assistance in coordinating the event.

The Division of Advancement will include a focus on donor stewardship this year and the fundraising goal for FY24 is $22 million (and is currently on-track).
