

HUMANIZED TEACHING THROUGH A "LIQUID" ONLINE COURSE

DANA J. HUBBARD
CLEVELAND STATE UNIVERSITY

CSU

HUMANIZING TEACHING/ LEARNING

The idea that student learning is the priority:

- Students needs should be considered
- Differences- culture, race, SES, gender, health, mental health, language etc., should be welcomed
- Students may not have a computer, may just use cell phone
- Students learn better when they have support, self efficacy and "feel part of."
- Students often start off class, fearful

What does this mean in practice? ?

- Supportive language
- Easy to digest Information
- Learning at own pace
- Recorded zoom lectures
- Time to process/talk in groups

Using Google Sites for your "Liquid" Course

Student Benefits!

- Easy to view assignments
- Review at own pace
- No need for printing
- Multi digital platform access

Teacher Benefits!

- Ability to add multimedia content
- Student engagement is high
- Able to build and maintain a catalog of content

