

GoldFFX Training Available Monthly

We continue to offer free, introductory-level training sessions once a month for the ChemWatch GoldFFX interface.

If you are a new client, if you have new employees who will be using the system, or if you or your colleagues need some basic training or a refresher class, please review the list of training dates and click on the one you would like to attend. This will open up an e-mail where you can fill in the blanks and send your information back to me so that I can register you for the appropriate class. (If you have several employees planning to share one computer to view the training, only one registration is required.)

Tuesdays at 12:00 pm Eastern
(11am Central, 10am Mountain, 9am Pacific)

October 11

November 15
(the 8th is Election Day)

December 13

These training sessions are open to all ChemWatch users, so please pass this e-mail along to anyone within your organization whom you feel would benefit from this training, and let me know if there is someone in your company who should be added to my distribution list permanently.

Security Training sessions will be provided upon request: System Administrators might wish to attend a training where we will discuss how to limit or expand access to features by establishing user roles, users, and groups. Please don't hesitate to let us know if this is something you need!

As always, please feel free to call or write if you have any questions or concerns!

Sincerely,
Nora Balint
