

Jeff Brancato

Brancato Solutions, LLC

Jeff served as senior executive in management of NorTech, a nationally-recognized technology-based development organization. Jeff also served with the University of Massachusetts.

As the Associate Vice President for Economic Development Led, he initiatives to enhance university's impact on regional innovation and technology industries. Managed $1M annual grant program to seed new faculty research and catalyze industry partnerships, resulting in $165M in additional support. Jeff earned a MPA from the School of International and Public Affairs at Columbia University and holds a BS in Political Science from Williams College.
